Present your software research project and get funded in Istanbul

date of publication > 04-March-2013

ITEA 2 is a technological Cluster for software technologies helping researchers and innovation entrepreneurs to receive funding and connect with the biggest companies in the sector in Europe. On March 19-20, 2013, ITEA 2 organises a brokerage event in Istanbul to offer innovators in the software industry the occasion to pitch their project ideas and contact potential partners to collaborate on the development of new software-based techs.

You can follow the event through a smartphone app developed for the occasion, as well as on the ITEA Twitter account @ITEA2 and via the hashtag #POdays2013.

To participate in the event you can fill the online registration form available online on the PO Days 2013 website.

On this occasion Marc Sturzel joins the ITEA 2 office team as programme coordinator. He is seconded on full time basis from EADS where he has worked since 2003, and since 2007 as a project manager at EADS Innovation Works.
